 - (b) no other care of a less restrictive kind is appropriate and reasonably available to the person.
- (2) If an authorised medical officer is not of that opinion about a patient or other person at a mental health facility, the officer must refuse to detain, and must not continue to detain, the person.
- (3) An authorised medical officer may, immediately on discharging a patient or person who has been detained in a mental health facility, admit that person as a voluntary patient.

13 Criteria for involuntary admission etc as mentally ill person or mentally disordered person (cf 1990 Act, s 8)

 - (a) for the person's own protection from serious harm, or
 - (b) for the protection of others from serious harm.

- (2) In considering whether a person is a mentally ill person, the continuing condition of the person, including any likely deterioration in the person's condition and the likely effects of any such deterioration, are to be taken into account.

15 Mentally disordered persons (cf 1990 Act, s 10)

- (a) for the person's own protection from serious physical harm, or
- (b) for the protection of others from serious physical harm.

16 Certain words or conduct may not indicate mental illness or disorder (cf 1990 Act, s 11)

- (2) Nothing in this Part prevents, in relation to a person who takes or has taken alcohol or any other drug, the serious or permanent physiological, biochemical or psychological effects of drug taking from being regarded as an indication that a person is suffering from mental illness or other condition of disability of mind.

27 Steps for medical examination requirements for ongoing detention in mental health facility

The following steps must be taken in relation to a person who is detained in a mental health facility under this Division:

(a) Step 1 Initial examination by authorised medical officer

An authorised medical officer must examine the person as soon as practicable (but not later than 12 hours) after the person arrives at the facility or after the person is detained after being a voluntary patient.

The person must not be detained after the examination unless the officer certifies that, in the officer's opinion, the person is a mentally ill person or a mentally disordered person.

(b) Step 2 Examination by second medical practitioner

The authorised medical officer must cause the person to be examined by another medical practitioner as soon as possible after giving the certificate in step 1. The second examiner must be a psychiatrist if the authorised medical officer is not a psychiatrist.

The second examiner must notify the authorised medical officer in the form prescribed by the regulations if of the opinion that the person is a mentally ill person or a mentally disordered person or if not able to form such an opinion.

(c) Step 3 Examination by third medical practitioner if second examiner does not find person to be mentally ill or mentally disordered

If the second examiner is not of the opinion that the person is a mentally ill person or a mentally disordered person, the authorised medical officer must cause the person to be examined by a medical practitioner who is a psychiatrist, as soon as practicable after being notified of that opinion.

The third examiner must notify the authorised medical officer in the form prescribed by the regulations if of the opinion that the person is a mentally ill person or a mentally disordered person.

(d) Step 4 Mental health inquiry or discharge

An authorised medical officer must bring the person before a Magistrate for a mental health inquiry if:

- (i) the person is found to be a mentally ill person by an authorised medical officer on initial examination in step 1, and to be a mentally ill person or a mentally disordered person on examination in step 2 or step 3, or
- (ii) the person is found to be a mentally disordered person by an authorised medical officer on initial examination in step 1, and to be a mentally ill person on examination in step 2 or step 3.

The person must be brought before a Magistrate as soon as practicable after the authorised medical officer is notified of the relevant finding of the second or third examiner.

If the third examiner does not find that the person is a mentally ill person or a mentally disordered person, the person must not be detained after the third examination.

(e) Step 5 Mentally disordered persons

If a person is found to be a mentally disordered person by an authorised medical officer on initial examination in step 1, and is found to be a mentally disordered person on examination in step 2 or step 3, the person may be detained in the mental health facility as a mentally disordered person.

28 Obligations of examining medical practitioners

- (1) An authorised medical officer or other medical practitioner who examines a person detained in a mental health facility under this Division may take into account his or her own observations and any other available evidence that he or she considers reliable and relevant in forming an opinion as to whether the person is a mentally ill person or a mentally disordered person.

- (2) A medical practitioner on whose certificate or request a person has been admitted to a mental health facility must not examine the person under section 27.

30 Assessable persons may be reclassified as voluntary patients (cf 1990 Act, s 54)

An authorised medical officer may classify an assessable person as a voluntary patient at any time before a mental health inquiry is held about the person, but only if:

- (a) the authorised medical officer is of the opinion that the person is likely to benefit from care or treatment as a voluntary patient, and
- (b) the patient agrees to be so classified or, if the person is a person under guardianship or is under the age of 14 years, the person is admitted in accordance with the procedures under this Act applicable to admitting any such person as a voluntary patient.

31 Limited detention of mentally disordered persons (cf 1990 Act, s 35)

- (1) A person detained as a mentally disordered person under step 5 in section 27 (e) must not be detained in a mental health facility for a continuous period of more than 3 days (not including weekends and public holidays).
- (2) If an authorised medical officer of a mental health facility is of the opinion that an assessable person has ceased to be a mentally ill person but is a mentally disordered person, the person must not be further detained in the facility for a continuous period of more than 3 days (not including weekends and public holidays).
- (3) An authorised medical officer must examine a mentally disordered person detained in a mental health facility at least once every 24 hours.
- (4) The person must not be further detained in the mental health facility if, on any such examination, the authorised medical officer is of the opinion that the person is not a mentally disordered person or a mentally ill person or that other care of a less restrictive kind is appropriate and reasonably available to the person.

- (5) A person must not be admitted to and detained in a mental health facility on the grounds that the person is a mentally disordered person on more than 3 occasions in any 1 calendar month.

32 Limited further detention of persons taken to facility by police or after Magistrate's or bail officer's order (cf 1990 Act, ss 36, 37, 37A)

- (1) This section applies to a person detained in a mental health facility under this Part who is required not to be detained or further detained in the facility and who was taken to the facility:

 - (b) on the order of a Magistrate or an authorised officer under section 33 of the Mental Health (Criminal Procedure) Act 1990.
- (2) An authorised medical officer must release the person into the custody of any police officer who is present at the mental health facility to ascertain the results of any examination or examinations of the person.
- (3) If a police officer is not so present when the authorised medical officer becomes aware that the person must not be detained or further detained, the authorised medical officer must, as soon as practicable, notify a police officer at the appropriate police station that the person will not be further detained.
- (4) The authorised medical officer may take any of the following actions in relation to a person (other than a person referred to in subsection (5)), after considering any matter communicated by a police officer as to the intended apprehension of the person by a police officer:
- (a) detain the person for a period not exceeding one hour pending the person's apprehension by a police officer,
 - (b) admit the person in accordance with this Act as a voluntary patient,
 - (c) discharge the person, in so far as it may be possible to do so, into the care of the person's primary carer,

- (5) If the person is a person ordered to be brought back before a court under section 33 (1) (b) of the Mental Health (Criminal Procedure) Act 1990:
- (a) it is the duty of the police officer notified by the authorised medical officer to ensure that a police officer attends the mental

- health facility and apprehends the person as soon as practicable after notification, and
- (b) the authorised medical officer must detain the person pending the person's apprehension by a police officer.
- (6) A police officer may apprehend a person under this section without a warrant.

33 Actions may be delayed because of other illnesses or conditions

Despite any other provision of this Act, an authorised medical officer is not required:

- (a) to take or complete a step referred to in section 27, or
- (b) to bring a person before a Magistrate for a mental health inquiry, while the person is suffering from a condition or illness other than a mental illness or other mental condition and is not, in the officer's opinion, fit to be the subject of the proposed action due to the seriousness of the person's condition or illness.

Division 3 Continuing detention in mental health facilities

34 Mental health inquiries to be held

- (1) A Magistrate is to hold an inquiry about an assessable person brought before the Magistrate under step 4 in section 27 (d).

 - (a) ensure that, as far as practicable, the person is brought before the Magistrate dressed in street clothes, and

 - (c) an order that the person be detained in or admitted to and detained in a specified mental health facility for further observation or treatment, or both, as an involuntary patient, for a specified period of up to 3 months, if the Magistrate is of the opinion that no other care of a less restrictive kind is appropriate and reasonably available or that for any other reason it is not appropriate to make any other order under this subsection.

36 Contempt of mental health inquiry (cf 1990 Act, s 291)

A person must not refuse, neglect or for any reason fail to obey or comply with an order, direction, decision or determination of a Magistrate under this Act.

38 Purpose and findings of reviews of involuntary patients

- (1) The Tribunal is, on a review of an involuntary patient, to determine whether the patient is a mentally ill person for whom no other care (other than care in a mental health facility) is appropriate and reasonably available.
- (2) For that purpose, the Tribunal is to do the following:
 - (a) consider any information before it,
 - (b) inquire about the administration of any medication to the patient and take account of its effect on the patient's ability to communicate.
- (3) If the Tribunal determines that the patient is not a mentally ill person, the patient must be discharged from the mental health facility in which the patient is detained.
- (4) If the Tribunal determines that the patient is a mentally ill person and that no other care of a less restrictive kind is appropriate and reasonably available to the patient, the Tribunal must make an order that the patient continue to be detained as an involuntary patient in a mental health facility for further observation or treatment, or both.
- (5) In any other case that the Tribunal determines that a patient is a mentally ill person, it must make an order that the patient be discharged from the mental health facility in which the patient is detained and may make a community treatment order.

- (1) An involuntary patient or person detained at a mental health facility (the applicant) who applies to be discharged, or a person who applies for the discharge of the applicant, or a person appointed by the applicant, may appeal to the Tribunal if:

- (4) For the purpose of determining an appeal, the Tribunal has and may exercise the functions of the authorised medical officer with respect to the discharge application and may make an order accordingly.

- (5) In addition, the Tribunal may determine that no further right of appeal may be exercised under this section before the date on which the person is next reviewed by the Tribunal under this Act, if it thinks it appropriate to do so, having regard to the following:

If you are a person who is already in a mental health facility as a voluntary patient, and you have been told you are now to be kept in the facility against your will, you must be seen by a facility doctor not later than 12 hours after it is decided to keep you in the facility.

When can I be kept in a mental health facility against my will?

You can be kept in a mental health facility against your will if you are certified by the facility doctor as a mentally ill person or a mentally disordered person. The doctor will decide whether or not you are a mentally ill person or a mentally disordered person.

A mentally ill person is someone who has a mental illness and who needs to be kept in a mental health facility for his or her own protection or to protect other people. A mentally disordered person is someone whose behaviour shows that he or she needs to be kept in a mental health facility for a short time for his or her own protection or to protect other people.

The facility cannot continue to keep you against your will unless at least one other doctor also finds that you are a mentally ill person or a mentally disordered person. At least one of the doctors who sees you must be a psychiatrist.

How long can I be kept in a mental health facility against my will?

If you are found to be a mentally disordered person, you can only be kept in a mental health facility for up to 3 DAYS (weekends and public holidays are not counted in this time). During this time you must be seen by a doctor at least once every 24 hours. You cannot be detained as a mentally disordered person more than 3 times in any month.

If you are found to be a mentally ill person, you will be kept in the mental health facility until you see a Magistrate who will hold a mental health inquiry to decide what will happen to you.

How can I get out of a mental health facility?

You, or a friend or relative, may at any time ask the medical superintendent or another authorised medical officer to let you out. You must be let out if you are not a mentally ill person or a mentally disordered person or if the medical superintendent or another authorised medical officer thinks that there is other appropriate care reasonably available to you.

Can I be treated against my will?

The facility staff may give you appropriate medical treatment, even if you do not want it, for your mental condition or in an emergency to save your life or prevent serious damage to your health. The facility staff must tell you what your medical treatment is if you ask. You must not be given excessive or inappropriate medication.

Can I be given electro convulsive therapy (ECT) against my will?

Yes, but only if the Mental Health Review Tribunal determines at a hearing that it is necessary or desirable for your safety or welfare. You have a right to attend that hearing.

More information

You should read the questions and answers below to find out about Magistrates' mental health inquiries and when you may be kept in a mental health facility against your will after an inquiry.

When is a Magistrate's mental health inquiry held?

A Magistrate's mental health inquiry must be held as soon as possible after it is decided to keep you in a mental health facility against your will because you are a mentally ill person.

What happens at a Magistrate's mental health inquiry?

The Magistrate will decide whether or not you are a mentally ill person.

If the Magistrate decides that you are not a mentally ill person, you must be let out of the mental health facility.

If the Magistrate decides that you are a mentally ill person, the Magistrate will then decide what will happen to you. Consideration must be given to the least restrictive environment in which care and treatment can be effectively given. The Magistrate may order that you be kept in a mental health facility as an INVOLUNTARY PATIENT for a set time (not more than 3 months) or the Magistrate may order that you be let out of the mental health facility. If you are let out, the Magistrate may make a community treatment order requiring you to have certain treatment after you are let out.

The Magistrate may adjourn the inquiry for up to 14 days where he or she considers that it is in your best interests.

If the Magistrate makes an order that you are to remain in a mental health facility as an involuntary patient, the Magistrate must also consider whether you are capable of managing your financial affairs. If the Magistrate is not satisfied that you are capable, an order must be made for the management of your affairs under the Protected Estates Act 1983.

What rights do I have at a Magistrate's mental health inquiry?

You can tell the Magistrate what you want or have your lawyer tell the Magistrate what you want. You can wear street clothes, be helped by an interpreter and have your primary carer, relatives and friends told about the inquiry. You can apply to see your medical records.

What are my rights of appeal if I have been made an involuntary patient?

You (or a carer or friend or relative) may at any time ask the medical superintendent or another authorised medical officer to discharge you. If the medical superintendent or authorised medical officer refuses or does not respond to your request within 3 working days you (or a carer or friend or relative) may lodge an appeal with the Mental Health Review Tribunal.

You will be given a notice setting out your appeal rights.

What happens when the time set by an order making me an involuntary patient has nearly ended?

The facility medical staff will review your condition before the end of the order and the mental health facility may either discharge you or apply to the Mental Health Review Tribunal for a further order.

The Tribunal must let you out of the mental health facility if it decides that you are not a mentally ill person or if it feels that other care is more appropriate and reasonably available.

Who can I ask for help?

You may ask any facility staff member, social worker, doctor, official visitor, chaplain, your own lawyer or the Mental Health Advocacy Service for help. The Mental Health Advocacy Service telephone number is:

(Note. Appropriate telephone numbers should be included.)

Can I ask a friend or relative to act for me?

You may nominate a person to be your primary carer while you are in a mental health facility. Your primary carer may ask for information on your behalf and will be informed if you are kept in a mental health facility, subject to a mental health inquiry, transferred or discharged and of proposed special mental health treatments or surgical operations. You and your primary carer also have the right to be given information about follow-up care if you are discharged.

71 Other Ministers may make transfer orders as prescribed authority

An order that may be made under this Part by a prescribed authority for the transfer of a person between a correctional centre and a mental health facility or other place or between a mental health facility and a place other than a correctional centre may, in the absence or unavailability, for any cause, of the prescribed authority be made by any Minister of the Crown.

74 Effect of detention in mental health facility on sentence and parole
